Forecast for Monday 19 Jul 2021

Weather: Dry and fairly warm through the early hours with clear skies. Any valley mist quickly lifting after dawn to leave another dry and sunny day. Temperatures rising quickly and feeling hot by the afternoon, especially on south facing slopes. Some cumulus cloud bubbling up by the afternoon but staying well above all the summits. A small chance of an isolated afternoon/evening shower developing. Otherwise, staying dry and clear into the evening and overnight period.

Chance of cloud free mountain/hill tops above 800m: 100% throughout

Visibility: Locally poor in any valley mist first thing. Otherwise very good with distant hills and landmarks easily visible. A slight heat haze during the afternoon, with this reducing the air clarity a little.

Meteorologist's View

Very high UV levels will give a high risk of sunburn and the hot conditions will give a risk of dehydration and heat exhaustion. Remember sun protection and plenty of water if you are heading into the mountains.
